On Wednesday, we will begin our Lenten journey. The marking with ashes is a reminder that we are all in need of conversion. The ashes on our forehead testify to the reality of our sin but also to our desire for conversion. In this Year of Mercy, let us reflect on God's mercy and how we might offer personal witness to His merciful love. The Holy Father has reminded us that the difference between being a sinner and a corrupt person is that the sinner recognizes the need for forgiveness whilst the corrupt person does not. This Ash Wednesday let our ashes be a sign of our sinfulness but also of our hope in the merciful and forgiving love of the Father. God bless you.
