A MESSAGE FROM:

Reverend Monsignor Kieran Harrington, V.E.
Vicar for Communications for the Diocese of Brooklyn

This week, our nation celebrates the peaceful transition of power from one president to another. We say farewell to President Barack Obama and welcome President Donald Trump. We all ought to hope and pray that our new president succeeds. People are suffering the privations of food and peace all over the world. Millions of Americans go without the dignity of work and have been dislocated by a technical revolution. What is worse is that tens of thousands of our countrymen are homeless. Most appalling is that our most vulnerable do not enjoy the protection of the law, and that our culture celebrates a mother's decision to terminate the life of her child in the womb. Despite all the challenges we face as a nation, we have a reason to be hopeful. We indomitable Americans – with all of our basic goodness and charity – are grounded in our common belief in God. Let us pray for our nation and for one another. May God bless you.
