This week we witnessed the creation of three new American Cardinals. The red color that a Cardinal wears symbolizes his willingness to shed his blood for Christ. We in the United States of America, do not so much fear a persecution that would result in death. However, at least two of those elevated to the College of Cardinals are serving in war torn regions: Cardinal Mario Zenari serves as Apostolic Nuncio in Syria and Cardinal Dieudonné Nzapalainga of the Central African Republic. During our celebration of Advent this year, let us pray earnestly that Christ will come again and His peace will be manifest upon the earth. May God bless you.
