A MESSAGE FROM:

Reverend Monsignor Kieran Harrington, V.E.
Vicar for Communications for the Diocese of Brooklyn

Follow Msgr. Harrington @MonsignorH

The Great Commission of the Lord is to "go make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit." (Mt 28) Today, it seems fashionable to think that it really does not matter if you are a Christian, Jew, Muslim, Buddhist, Hindu or atheist as long as you are nice, respectful and do no harm to others. This thinking is governed by a belief that we somehow earn salvation. The truth is, salvation is only possible because Christ died for you and for me upon the Cross. Faith is our response to the saving action of the Lord. As we celebrate World Mission Sunday, it is good to reflect on the work of the Propagation of the Faith as the instrument of the Church in those places of the world that have only recently heard the Gospel proclaimed and do not have the resources to sustain the Christian community. When the Lord returns, we will be judged by how we have responded to Him in love. The measure of that response is discernible in our love of others. May God bless you.
