

REFUGEES: ENEMIES OR VICTIMS?

FEATURING:

SHADI MARTINI Refugee, Advisor for the Multifaith Alliance

SANA MUSTAFA
Syrian Activist,
Student, Asylee

DONALD KERWIN
Center for Migration Studies

The Syrian Civil War has created one of the greatest humanitarian crises in the last 60 years. President Trump's banning of Syrian refugees has caused protests and outrage around the world. Should the United States allow refugees into our country? Or should we do even more to protect our borders?

Nominated for the 61st NY Emmy® Award in the Documentary category, "Refugees: Enemies or Victims?" investigates the very important question of whether or not the United States is doing enough to uphold its long tradition of helping those in need.

Written, Directed, and Produced by Terence Donnellan

ROSE HAMID
American-born Muslim

MARIO RUSSELL
Catholic Charities

RIVA SILVERMAN
HIAS

FRIDAY, MARCH 9 AT 9:30 PM

ENCORE SATURDAY, MARCH 10 AT 1:30 PM

www.netny.tv/refugees

nettvny @netnytv

NEW YORK'S CATHOLIC STATION

Fios by Verizon 48
Optimum 30
Spectrum 97
www.netny.tv

